Healthy Bathing

Soak and save your skin...

The Center for Disease Control is reporting 41 states have increasing and unprecedented wide-spread activity this during this flu season. Keeping your clients and yourself healthy is mission critical.

Skin being the largest organ on the body and the first line of defense, using the Alexandria Salt Spring™ for a warm bath soak is the best protection in fighting off germs and toxin in our everyday environments.

The healing powers of the Dead Sea date back to Cleopatra and have been used in bathing rituals for physical and spiritual therapies even today. Alexandria Salt Spring™ contains very high mineral content and 17% sodium compared to most other salts at a 3% content. The Dead Sea is so powerful because of the dense magnesium (mg) accumulation making the salts beneficial to alleviating many skin conditions. This element enhances the natural hydration process of skin that encourages the production of collagen present in skin cells.

The Alexandria Professional™ education team has been utilizing the Salt Spring™ soaking routines on travel for many seasons. Everyone can tell you stories of fighting off the onset of flu symptoms with a good Salt Spring™ Soak.

Lina Kennedy herself shares her routine of nightly soaks to defend her skin. Having two teenage daughters in schools there is plenty of things flying around in her world too. Moms on the go and busy professionals out amongst the public we are all vulnerable out there. It's nice to know the products we use to keep our skin beautiful and free from ingrown hair is also working to provide extra protection.

Keeping your skin healthy will go along way in not just beauty but fighting off the diseases running amongst this season. Providing your clients the Salt Glow service helps keep skin smooth and prevents ingrown hair issues as well as health benefits. Help your client stay healthy by sharing the soaking benefits with your Salt Spring retail bags too.
